

PET SAFETY

Don't leave pets unattended for long periods of time.

Don't lock pets in a car, camper, or trailer without food, water and proper ventilation. Temperatures inside a closed vehicle in the summer can kill your pet very quickly.

Don't tie your pet where a child or an unsuspecting visitor, not knowing the animal's disposition, may be bitten or injured. You are liable in these cases, not the park.

Always leave fresh water out for your pet.

Walk your pets in designated areas whenever such areas are provided. Otherwise, use isolated areas away from the campgrounds, picnic and play areas.

Top ten ways your uncontrolled pet can wreck your stay

10. They might dig, roll or fall into some thing dangerous or very, very dirty!
9. They might harass wildlife.
8. They might ransack garbage.
7. They might wander into others' campsites.
6. They might get into fights with other people's pets.
5. You could get costly citations.
4. They might scare children or other visitors.
3. They might get hit by a car.
2. They might bite someone.
1. They might get lost.

Pets in the Parks

Thank you for picking up this brochure! Oregon State Parks welcomes responsible pet owners and their pets. We know that your pet is important to you, and we want to make your stay fun—and safe—for both you and your four-legged friend.

Our parks are popular, and safety for our visitors is paramount. Please cooperate with your neighbor and with park staff. The rules below are designed to reduce the risk of injury or property damage, and to keep the peace within the park.

🐾 All types of pets must be kept on a leash (maximum 6 feet long), or in a vehicle or tent. The pet must be under physical control at all times, meaning you must be holding your pet, holding onto its collar, or be controlling its leash. Your roaming pet can scare, hurt or kill wildlife, frighten or bite other visitors, or get into a fight. Your pet is in an unusual situation, and may not react the way you think he will. Problems may turn into serious liability to you and your pocketbook.

🐾 Bring bags! You must clean up after your dog, and dispose of wastes into the garbage. This is a health and sanitation issue, and we take it seriously.

🐾 You are responsible for your pet's behavior. Barking dogs (or other noisy animals) can wreak havoc on a peaceful campground, and create ill will among campers. Please do not leave your pet unattended in a vehicle or a tent at your campsite.

🐾 No animals, except for designated service animals, are allowed in any building or structure. Unfortunately, many people suffer from allergies, so we cannot allow pets in such structures as yurts, cabins and tepees.

🐾 Exercise pens are to be moved daily to maintain the best possible conditions for the grounds.

🐾 Pets must be properly licensed and inoculated. An identification tag is a smart idea. The tag should include a number where somebody can be reached when you are away from home.

🐾 Animals found loose may be seized and subjected to laws pertaining to stray animals. Should your animal become lost, immediately call the local authorities to find the locations of the nearest stray holding facilities.

🐾 Most, but not all, state parks allow dogs on their trails. Check with park staff if you are not sure.

Failure to follow these rules may result in a citation ($97 fine) and your removal from the park.

If you use a retractable lead, (above) remember, you must keep it to 6 feet.
